COVER LETTER

As a heavy coder, I tend to pay special attention to technicalities that sound thrilling and exciting. I felt the same when I saw your job posting for the Full Stack and variety responsibilities end to end. I have previously worked as a full stack developer with more than 7 years of work experience, and I could relate to the requirements you are looking for. My experience has taught me to value time/deliverables, innovation and ownership of my work. I am passionate about technologies, and I tend to completely immerse myself not only in the area that is strictly technical but also on other areas that involve managing teams, presenting prototypes, pitching crazy solutions and constantly thinking about scalability.

I like to focus on finding simple solutions to complex problems. My motivation is to leave the code I touch more readable and clean. For instance, one of the requirements I had was to create a dynamic web page based on user preference. My architect and I brainstormed on number of solutions and introduced randomization concept in ReactJS to create unique ids and associate it with a customized design preferred by the user. A simple clean solution to introduce random function solved a design problem. It became a popular solution in my company and inspired different teams to use it in their project.

I understand and value the importance of team contribution and have participated in team roles of following, leading, and brainstorming. I have worked on open-source projects and got an opportunity to work with people from around the world. I enjoy collaborating with talented people and understand the importance of teamwork and bringing positivity to my environment.

I have come from various experiences, and I have spent the past seven years working on varied roles like developer, leader, SCRUM master and contributor to project architecture. I believe I could use my education and experience to the best of my knowledge and be a valuable asset to your organization. I look forward to speaking with you and discussing on anything you would like to know. You can reach out to me on my email id trushita@gmail.com.

Sincerely,
Trushita Maurya
